Description

The U.S. State of North Carolina welcomes Manchester area business leaders to a social reception at the Midland Hotel. The event builds on the close ties between the 'Tar Heel' state and the Greater Manchester region, and the UK-North Carolina Memorandum of Understanding.

North Carolina boasts the largest overall manufacturing workforce in the U.S. Southeast Region, the 2nd largest engineering workforce in the U.S. Southeast Region, and an overall GDP roughly equivalent to Switzerland. Unique strengths in biologics manufacturing, precision aerospace manufacturing, and automotive component manufacturing contribute to North Carolina's position as a diversified manufacturing powerhouse.

Participants from North Carolina include Machel Baker Sanders, Secretary of Commerce for the State of North Carolina, plus additional economic development executives from the Economic Development Partnership of North Carolina, Henderson County, and Union County.

Secretary Sanders will offer brief remarks.
